FIRST LEGISLATIVE SKIRMISH WILL COME WEDNESDAY EVENING

On That Occasion Eight Liquor Measures Now Before House Will Be Considered—Herrin Probe Committee Also Will Hold Short Meeting—Other Legislative News

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 14.—“Wets” and “dry” will measure swords here next Wednesday evening in the first legislative skirmish of the year on prohibition. The occasion will be the meeting of the house judiciary committee, when all liquor bills in the lower branch will be considered.

Representative Benson points out that Congressmen-at-large Yates and Rathbone based their candidacies on strict enforcement of the dry laws to the exclusion of other issues, and he declares their election by large majorities disproves the anti-prohibitionist contention that the people want modification. He asserts the congressional election is a surer barometer of public sentiment than the referendum since the Anti-Saloon League advised its friends not to vote on the beer and wine question.

WILL FIGHT FOR ABOLISHMENT OF CONVICT SYSTEM

Florida Law Makers Hope to do Away With Lease System

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 14.—Alleged mistreatment of convicts in Florida remained the subject of foremost discussion during the week end recess of the legislature here today with prison reformers marshaling their forces for the expected fight on proposed legislation to abolish the whip along with the county convict lease system. They consider their fight as good as won insofar as the lease system goes but their efforts to do away with corporal punishment is slated for some opposition if present indications hold good.

The possible scope of the legislative inquiry, started last week and now halted over the week end, was enlarged today when Senator H. B. Lindsay began gathering material for the support of his effort to charge the investigating committee with inquiry into all reports of convict abuses whether they be state or county prisoners.

The point seems to be lost in all the excitement growing out of the death of Martin Tabert of North Dakota, alleged victim of a private boss whip.

While John T. Gardner, Fort Sam Houston, Texas; Glenn Thompson, Sidney, Iowa, and A. Shivers, Doerwin, Ga., are being kept here to testify before the committee as to being actual eyewitnesses to the flogging which they say brought about the death of Tabert in Dixie county, letters addressed to members of the legislature and G. Grimsom, a state's attorney of North Dakota, are being received from many states declaring that the writers were willing to make affidavits covering alleged brutalities they either experienced or witnessed while confined at the camp of the Putnam Lumber company in Dixie county.

ALLEGED KLAN CANDIDATES LOSE

(By The Associated Press)
EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., April 14.—The four candidates for the board of education, alleged to have been endorsed by the Ku Klux Klan, were defeated in a municipal election here today, according to complete unofficial returns tonight. The four successful candidates who will serve for three years are:

Charles E. Reid, J. M. Sullivan, Henry G. Miller and Gertrude Geary Huitt. E. W. Canaday was unopposed for president of the board. The four candidates said to have received the endorsement of the Ku Klux Klan are: Charles Prall, James C. Henry, J. J. Zumwalt, Jr., and A. B. Cowgill. There were twelve candidates in the field.

SURRENDER OF IRREGULARS IS NEAR AT HAND

Document on Person of Austin Stack Indicates This

(By The Associated Press)
DUBLIN, April 14.—The capture today of Austin Stack, chief colleague of Eamonn DeValera while important in itself is overshadowed by the discovery on his person of a document indicating that the complete surrender of the irregulars is at hand.

The document, made public tonight by the Free State army headquarters reads:

Realizing the gravity of the situation of the army of the republic owing to the great odds now facing them and the losses lately sustained, and being of the opinion that further military efforts are futile and would cause only injury to our country without obtaining any advantage and being convinced that the defensive war waged by the army for the last nine or ten months has made it impossible for the Irish people ever to accept less than their full national rights, and fearing that it would cause too much delay to await the summer and holding of a full meeting of the army council or executive, we, the undersigned members of the army council and of the executive and other army officers hereby call upon and authorize the president of the republic to order an immediate cessation of hostilities.

“Volunteers are requested to hand in their arms to (blank) pending the election of a government by free choice of the people.”

Document Not Signed.

The document was not signed. It contrasts strongly with the address attributed to Eamonn DeValera in commenting on Liam Lynch's death, as that document seemed to contemplate continuance of the fight but little importance is attached to this discrepancy, as DeValera's eloquent appeal is regarded merely as a final gesture.

Stack was found in a field near Clonmel, County Tipperary, unarmed and alone, and the fact that he carried no weapons will be in his favor if he is brought to trial. He is an old member of the Irish Republican brotherhood, was foremost in the preparation of the Easter rising of 1916 and was associated with Sir Roger Casement in the latter's efforts on behalf of the Republic. He was a vehement opponent of the Anglo-Irish treaty in the Dail, as home secretary in DeValera's administration and since the capture and execution of Erskine Childers had been the Republican chief's principal aide.

The only prominent leader with the exception of DeValera himself, now at large is P. J. Rutledge.

Today's issue of the Daily Republican Bulletin is devoted to vigorous denials of the recent statements of President Cosgrave and home minister O'Higgins that the Free State has won its fight over the irregulars nevertheless the opinion prevails here that except for possible sporadic outbreaks, the conflict is over.

REPORTS CURRENT HENRY FORD WANTS C. M. & ST. P. R. R.

Would Facilitate His Distribution Through Northwest

(By The Associated Press)
ST. PAUL, Minn., April 14.—Reports were current in railroad and financial circles here today that control of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad is sought by Henry Ford to facilitate distribution of his products thru the northwest and middle-west, according to the St. Paul Dispatch.

Such a purchase would be epochal in the transportation history of the United States and would involve hundreds of millions of dollars, as the value of the road's properties is estimated at more than $500,000,000, the Dispatch said.

Arrangements have just been made by the St. Paul road for building a spur to the site of the $10,000,000 manufacturing plant which the Detroit manufacturer plans to erect here.

One of the road's subsidiaries reaches the coal fields in Indiana, extending eastward, reaches to within one hundred miles of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railway, which Mr. Ford owns.

The combined properties would create one of the largest railroad systems in the world, it was said.

BANDITS LOSE GUN BATTLE IN DETROIT STREETS

Employees Fight off Robbers and One of Them is Killed

(By The Associated Press)
DETROIT, Mich., April 14.—Two men dead, another believed to be dying and at least two others seriously wounded was the outcome today of a gun fight at an east side street intersection in which employees of the Bohne Foundry company successfully fought off an attempt by four bandits to rob them of a payroll totalling $11,821. William J. Bohne, employment manager of the company, shot thru the head by one of the bandits, died in a hospital this afternoon while a man identified as Frank Smith and declared to have been one of the occupants of the Pirate car, was reported in a dying condition at a local hospital. Smith staggered into a house in Weitzel court shortly after holdup and fell unconscious on the floor. He had been shot thru the arm, head and stomach.

William Weakley, a clerk and Henry Sevarae, a watchman, accompanying Bohne in the pay car also were wounded.

G. H. Ogden, paymaster of the Bohne company also in the pay car was unhurt although a bullet ploughed thru his coat.

The pay car was enroute from a downtown bank to the company plant in Hart avenue when the attack occurred. A short distance from the plant it was crowded into the curb by another machine. Three occupants of the latter car jumped out and opened fire without warning. The fire was returned and ceased only when one of the bandits was wounded. His companions dragged him into the machine and made off.

NOTICE SERVED THAT U.S. MERCHANT MARINE WILL BE MAINTAINED

Decision Reached at White House Conference Yesterday—To be Operated as Going Concern Under Private Supervision or Under Government Ownership or Control

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 14.—Notice was served on all concerned after a two hour conference at the white house today that the American Merchant Marine is to be maintained as a going concern, either government, private supervision or under a straight out policy of government ownership and government operation.

The statement was made at the white house that President Harding and members of the shipping board who met with him to consider the shipping situation were unanimous in their opinion that the chief end to be sought is the establishment and maintenance of the American merchant marine.

“The statement from the conference,” said Chairman Lasker later, “means simply this: American and foreign shipping interests may be assured that so far as this generation can see ahead there will be adequate American tonnage to carry any cargo offered to any port of the world.”

With the conviction that private operation has not yet been relegated to the list of impossible things the conference determined upon one more attempt to turn over established routes to private ownership. As an initial step the forty existing routes will be consolidated to insure more economical and efficient operation and then will be offered for sale as going concerns, practically at auction, but with the stipulation that only “justifiable” bids will be considered. A condition of all sales will be that the vessels concerned be kept on their present routes.

“The consolidation is expected to remove one of the principal handicaps under which the board has labored in its dealings with government operators. An example was cited today in the case of certain routes out of New York. An operator running ships to Amsterdam, it was pointed out, might have an outward cargo and the opportunity to pick up and return freight at Rotterdam but would be unable to avail himself because of the existence of a separate route from New York to Rotterdam. The consolidation will combine routes to adjacent foreign ports under a single head with the view of handling the same amount of business with less ships.

It is estimated that the number of routes might be reduced to 15 by the consolidation and the number of operators reduced in proportion. Chairman Lasker said today advertisement of the sale would be ready in three weeks.

Outlines Policies.

“It must be understood,” he said, “the board does not contemplate selling only the ‘Cream Routes’ and leaving the government stuck with unproductive lines. If sufficient routes are not purchased to insure success of private operation, the government will proceed to hold them all, eliminate the agency system entirely and embark upon a program of aggressive operation itself.”

In this event, he declared the board would be prepared to go before Congress in December and ask for a substantial appropriation for new construction the first to be undertaken by the board since the war. Any program of government operation the chairman explained would include maintenance of adequate surplus tonnage to convince competitors that the American merchant fleet was not intended to serve a temporary purpose. Regardless of the outcome of the proposed sale of existing routes, the day of the cost plus fee operator is gone it was announced officially. Chairman Lasker characterized the system as “vicious,” declaring it offered no inspiration either to the agents or to the government employees to build for the future. In this connection it was learned today the board has a list in its files of government operators who have maintained connections throughout their service with foreign lines.

Operators under the so-called “M-O-4” contract by which the agent's fees assured regardless of financial outcome have been reduced from 80 to 39, and their privileges materially restricted.

Mr. Lasker said the remaining operators will be dropped if the government takes over operation.

R. M. Mitchell of Boardtown a single man on the Burlington is spending the week end with relatives in this city.

ATTORNEY GENERAL ASKS FOR REAL MAN JUDGE TAKES ON JOB

Will Make One Man Probe of House of David Affairs

(By The Associated Press)
DETROIT, Mich., April 14.—Responding to Attorney General Andrew B. Dougherty's assertion that the state wishes “a man with guts” to do this job, Harry J. Dingeman, presiding judge of the circuit courts of Michigan, today accepted the task of personally conducting a one-man grand jury investigation of the Israelite House of David colony at Benton Harbor.

The decision of the state to make this new move in an effort to learn the truth of charges that immorality exists at the colony was announced here today by Governor A. J. Greenback. The grand jury investigation which will open at St. Joseph April 15, supplements quo warranto proceedings begun by the state in the Ingham county, Lansing, courts.

The grand jury probe will seek to learn the truth of charges made recently in federal court at Grand Rapids, that Benjamin Purnell, head of the colony, practiced immorality among young girls at Shiloh, his official residence at the colony; that Purnell has become rich at the expense of members of the colony and that the colony as a corporation has failed to report to the state concerning its activities.

Judge Dingeman tonight indicated that every effort would be made to locate Purnell, variously reported dead, a fugitive in Australia, and hiding at Shiloh.

RETIREMENT OF BONAR LAW IS TO COME SOON

London Observer Correspondent Makes Prediction

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, April 15.—The political correspondent of the Sunday Observer says that Mr. Bonar Law will soon retire and adds that the prime minister would have withdrawn at Easter if it had not been for the reversal in the bi-elections.

“The prime minister,” continues the paper, “has not the physical vigor required to grapple with Great Britain's present overwhelming burdens; any indefinite continuance in office would crush his strength. In any case present political conditions are impossible for him and he intends to go.”

An unnamed former minister, in a leading article in the News of the world, makes a similar prediction regarding the prime minister. He says Mr. Bonar Law upon retirement will ask the king to entrust Lord Curzon with the formation of a new cabinet.

A THOUGHT

Art thou called being a servant? Care not for it. But if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.—1 Corinthians 7:21.

And ye shall succor me; 'Tis nobleness to serve; Help them who cannot help again; Beware from right to swerve.—Emerson.

Objections to the Illinois primary are becoming more outspoken. Recently the political action committee of the Hamilton club has adopted resolutions favoring repeal of the direct primary law and substitution of a "compulsory, comprehensive delegate system surrounded by sufficient and carefully prepared legal safeguards to the end that the evils of the present system may be remedied and a better grade of government and officials may be substituted for that which we now possess." The resolutions declare that "the net result of the present system is to destroy party responsibility and generally lower the grade of public official."

Statistics which have been gathered together indicate about a fifty per cent farm labor shortage in certain of the middle west states. However, it is not worth while to worry too much about this shortage so many weeks before any crops mature. The situation may change to some extent by harvest time and at any rate history does not tell of any seasons when labor shortage difficulties have not been overcome.

IDLE RICH FINANCING RADICALS

(Chicago Journal of Commerce) We have disagreed with Samuel Gompers at times and probably shall do so again, but we must concede to him clarity of thought, consistency of purpose and directness of action against the menace of Communism. It is true that leaders high in the councils of Samuel Gompers and the American Federation of Labor, have openly espoused or covertly promoted various radical movements. This adds to, rather than detracts from, credit due Gompers for what he has accomplished. It should ever be borne in mind that his is a political position and that he must compose differences and compromise with opponents to hold his position and accomplish anything.

These observations are prompted by Mr. Gompers' criticism of the American Fund for Public Service, Incorporated, largely supported by a contribution of $300,000 from Charles Garland, a visionary young radical who inherited a large estate from his father, Mr. Gompers, charges that the fund is being used to finance a revolutionary effort to "emancipate the working class." This calls to mind the fact that but for the contributions of loose-thinking heirs to great wealth, revolutionary propaganda in this country would be unfinanced and would consist of nothing more than scap-box spoutings which amused us in days of yore.

No instance comes to mind, and search of the records probably would fail to disclose, any man of large means who has accumulated his wealth by individual effort contributing to agencies which conspire to the destruction of government and American institutions. There do come to mind, however, a dozen conspicuous instances of deluded and indolent wives and children of self-made men who are using the estates of splendid Americans to destroy the system and the government which permitted the accumulation of the funds that are now put to perverted uses. We wonder what the sires of those sons are saying if they can observe the present purposes of their estates?

BACK YONDER.

Old timers with good memories will look at the calendar June 25, 1926, and say: "It's just 50 years since Custer's Last Fight took place on the Little Big Horn, Montana. Seems like yesterday."

The famous Custer massacre is fading into the long ago. But it lurks as the greatest dime-novel thrill of boyhood for millions of us.

For nearly half a century a controversy has raged, whether there was a survivor of Custer's valiant cavalry. The controversy is settled. Uncle Sam has

EDGAR E. CRABTREE
For Mayor of Jacksonville

If you will look at the financial record of Jacksonville you will find that during last year the office of mayor cost the city $17.70. Of this sum $10 was the membership fee in the Municipal league and the remaining amount was for certain telephone tolls.

The past year, as in other years, Mayor Crabtree has served, he has borne his own expenses when representing the city elsewhere and in fact has paid all his own expenditures except the insignificant amount mentioned.

These facts are recalled now merely to suggest the spirit that has actuated Mr. Crabtree in serving as the executive head of Jacksonville. Many of the detailed duties of the office cannot but be annoying. As mayor one must listen to all complaints whether of a petty kind or really important, and must then make the effort to smooth them out.

It is a matter of common knowledge that Mayor Crabtree has not shirked these smaller things, but has met them all patiently at the same time giving more attention to matters of larger concern, much more vital to the city's welfare.

The only reward that can come from holding such an office to a man of Mr. Crabtree's standing is the pleasure of achievement and the knowledge that he has made some real contribution to his home city. To a man of his type there is a definite pleasure in meeting problems and in solving them.

Jacksonville people have indeed reason for being proud of the record of recent municipal years and the city owes a real debt of gratitude to the present mayor, who because of the action of friends is a candidate for re-election.

Under existing conditions Mayor Crabtree is entitled to a heavy vote next Tuesday, if for no other reason merely in recognition of the sacrifices he has made and the patriotic service he has given to this city.

Our Nation's Prayer

By Rev. Francis C. Young, Chicago.

"A holy, Christlike peace we crave;
For this with all our leaders brave
We pray that the Almighty hand
Will guard and guide our wondrous land.
We'll meet with love the swords of men
To slay of them the noblest
With this, our hope and sacred aim,
We will enshrine Old Glory's fame.

"Our age of young America,
The splendor of Columbia,
From these sends forth a hopeful light
That fills our veins and bounds with might.
To keep our people ever free,
Dear Emblem of true liberty,
We place thee in the Master's care
And humbly end our nation's prayer."

(As recited by its author as an invocation at the installation of Portage Park Post, American Legion No. 183.)

Tom Mix In Romance Land

Tom Mix is in a new kind of picture; that is a new kind for him. It is described as the story of a modern Ivanhoe. Tom portrays the character of a cowboy who reads "Ivanhoe" and fancies himself to be a modern knight who has set forth to rescue his fair lady. There are armor and broadswords and many brave imaginings. The girl is imbued with similar thoughts, caring more for the tales of King Arthur than she does for modern fiction.

The scenes include a tournament arranged in Western fashion, a rip-roaring fight and Tom Mix crossing a river in a tool bucket suspended from a cable two hundred feet in mid-air. The action does not let up for a minute, the story is replete with tense situations and brightly tinged with comedy.

BANK OFFICIAL IS STABBED BY CHICAGO DOCTOR

Assailant Objected to Alleged Attention to His Wife

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 14.—Charles H. Castle, 65 years old, an official of the bank of Montreal of Chicago, was stabbed but not seriously injured today by Dr. William Fuller, sixty years old. Fuller was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

He declared that the stabbing resulted from attentions Castle had paid to Mrs. Fuller. The two men met accidentally on Michigan Boulevard and Castle immediately turned and ran thru the crowds on the street closely followed by Dr. Fuller. Castle ran into the lobby of the Chicago Athletic Association building where he was overtaken by his pursuer.

Before anyone could intervene, Dr. Fuller pulled a pen knife and slashed Castle across the cheek, cutting thru the flesh to the bone. The two men were then separated by other persons in the club and Castle was taken to a hospital for treatment. He refused to make any charge against his assailant or comment on the affair.

Dr. Fuller made no effort to flee, but explained that he objected to Castle's attentions to his wife. He was taken into custody and a charge of disorderly conduct was made against him by officials of the club.

BACK FROM TRIP TO CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Tomlinson and daughter, Miss Margaret, have returned to Jacksonville after an eight weeks' trip to the west. While they greatly enjoyed this period of travel like other Jacksonville people they return with an increased admiration for their home city. They travelled west over the Santa Fe their objective in Colorado being the national convention of Pike's Peak Ocean to Ocean highway. Mr. Tomlinson was a delegate at that gathering and had a prominent part in the convention proceedings.

Following the convention the Jacksonville people continued their journey to California stopping over a day or two at the Grand Canyon. In California they spent the greater part of their time in Los Angeles, guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Anderson, and Joy Green, both former residents of Jacksonville. From Los Angeles of course trips were made into the surrounding country. Mr. Tomlinson in order to feel quite at home and at the same time to make travel easy purchased a Ford sedan to use during his stay in the coast state.

Among former Jacksonville residents Mr. Tomlinson met in Los Angeles were George Martin, of the Security Trust and Savings bank, E. G. Osborne, who is manager of the largest shoe store in the city; William Hoffman, associated with Frank English in the real estate business; Frank Bode, now in the oil business; Frank Meline, one of the wealthiest real estate men in Los Angeles.

One Sunday at the Great Baptist tabernacle of which Dr. Broer is pastor, Mr. Tomlinson met Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Reynolds. Dr. Broer will be remembered as one of the speakers at the last Jacksonville chautauqua and the average audience at the Tabernacle is 2,500 size. Still another Los Angeles citizen well known here is Professor H. E. Storrs, long ago a member of the faculty of Illinois college.

Visited H. M. Ticknor, At Riverside the Jacksonville travellers paid a visit to Charles Marcy and his sister. They were also at the handsome home of H. M. Ticknor in Pasadena, and in Long Beach they met Mrs. J. H. Hackett and Mrs. Eva Hackett Patterson. They also saw there Dr. Charles Henry whose home is still in Wisconsin.

The return trip to Jacksonville was made over the Feather river canyon route and the Union Pacific. Mr. Tomlinson could not but be impressed with the wonderful growth and hustle in Los Angeles. He said last night that the phrase "The Miracle City" is certainly applicable. In the first three months this year building permits that totalled $45,000,000 were issued. This was true notwithstanding the fact 1922 was an active building year. Although houses and store buildings are being erected with such great rapidity there are tenants ready to occupy them almost before the paint is dry.

The Boosting Spirit
"If we here in Jacksonville could catch some of the boosting spirit of Los Angeles our own beautiful city would grow rapidly," said Mr. Tomlinson. This does not mean that Jacksonville is not alive and going ahead, for I have never seen the time when the feeling was better here, however we cannot overdo this matter of boosting and I believe that a by continual effort we can show a big population increase here in Jacksonville within the next few years. One of the most interesting men I met in Los Angeles was Frank Whitten, he is secretary of the chamber of commerce and altho he is past seventy years of age is exceedingly active and the work he is doing gives ample proof that the chamber of commerce with its membership of 9,000 made no mistake in choosing him for the important position he holds. A recent addition of the Saturday Evening Post gives a very interesting article about Mr. Whitten, his work and the California spirit.

TO ATTEND CLINICS IN MANY CITIES

Dr. C. E. Cole and Dr. W. H. Weirich left last night for Chicago and will leave that city tonight over the New York Central. A special train will take a large group of physicians on a two weeks' journey during which many of the principal cities of the east will be visited and a number of clinics attended.

This special clinic train will go direct to Cleveland arriving the Monday, where Doctors Crile and Hoover have clinics arranged for the party. Tuesday morning the physicians will reach Boston, where they will be guests of Harvard university and will be entertained at a dinner given by the Harvard club that evening.

Two days will be spent in Boston and from there the special will move to New Haven and the members of the party will be in charge of Dr. Wintermiltz, dean of Yale medical school.

From New Haven the party will travel to New York and three or four days will be spent in the clinics there and one day in sight seeing. Headquarters will be at the Waldorf-Astoria. The clinics in New York will be in charge of Dr. Lewis Conner, Dr. John Hartwell and Dr. Reginald Sayre.

Later two days will be spent in Philadelphia and then the party will go to Baltimore and to John Hopkins University where they will be in charge of Dr. Barker and Dr. Finney. After spending two days in Baltimore the medical men will journey to Washington to be the guests of the medical department of the United States army. There the clinics will be put on at the big Walter Reed hospital. The party will return home from Washington arriving in Chicago on Saturday, April 28th. The clinics in the various cities mentioned will all be in charge of men of great prominence and have been so arranged that they will cover all the different branches of medicine and surgery. It should have been mentioned that this trip has been arranged under the auspices of the Tri-state Medical society. Of course there will be social and pleasure features but work is the main purpose and the members of the party feel that they are to have a wonderful opportunity for study.

DROP ORCHESTRAS IN CONFERENCE PROGRAM

Known and Troop Four Orchestra Engagements to Play for Young People's Conference Are Canceled, Because They Play for Public Dances

Orchestra music was a scarce form of entertainment at the Older Boys' and Girls' banquet and conference program last night. Both the Kelly's Known and Troop Four orchestra were canceled from the entire conference program late yesterday afternoon, and neither musical organization will appear at the sessions today.

The officials of the conference took this unexpected step at a time when it was exceedingly difficult to obtain other talent. The reason given was that both orchestras have been playing for public dances. The action of the conference authorities came after Troop Four orchestra had asked that its place on the program at the banquet be changed, in order that its members might leave in time to play at the Auto Inn later in the evening.

A program of toasts was given following the banquet at Central Christian church last night. There was a large attendance of young people, and much interest in the addresses was manifest. The Older Boys' and Girls' Conference of Morgan county opened Saturday afternoon with several hundred delegates in attendance. Scores of young people from all parts of the county are in the city to attend the conference sessions. The program yesterday afternoon and last night was held at Central Christian church.

Dr. Wing, Miss Maus and Mr. Sealock, the conference leaders, are all in the city for the work of the sessions. Nothing has been left undone to make the first annual event of this sort in the county a complete success.

SCHOOL ELECTION IS QUIET AFFAIR

The annual election for president and three members of the school board was held Saturday. The various voting places were at the four school buildings and there was but little interest taken. The total vote cast was 71.

Dr. Black was re-elected as president and the three members whose terms expire this spring were S. O. Cromwell, Fiedler and Hopper were re-elected. There was no opposition.

TOWNSHIP ELECTION

An election was held for trustee in township 15-10 Saturday, the polls being open at the court house for the hours required by law. S. O. Cromwell was chosen trustee to serve for a three year period. The election officials were Howard Wannamaker and John Ross.

Mrs. Fuller had been sick for some time but would have no medical attendance. Robinson, Edith Millard, G. W. Jackson, G. A. Brubaker, Rees Jones and Ralph Withee.

Mr. Fuller testified that his wife had been sick for about a week and that neither he nor his wife had had medical care for forty years.

DRAMATIC READER
YON APPLAUSE

Miss Hortense Neilson Delighted Large Attendance With Readings Last Evening—Saw H. S. Senior Play Rehearsal.

Miss Hortense Neilson, noted as a dramatic reader of exceptional ability, charmed the Juniors and Seniors of I. W. C. with her interpretations of Shakespeare at the annual Junior and Senior play of Illinois Woman's College last night.

Miss Neilson read, "Shakespeare's 'As You Like It,'" and gave several selections from "Romeo and Juliette." The program was concluded with several poems.

Friday afternoon Miss Neilson read Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln" at the high school assembly. The play, one of last year's greatest successes, was well received by the students.

Miss Neilson remained to see a rehearsal of the High school senior play "Come Out of the Kitchen," which will be presented this coming Thursday and Friday evenings. She pronounced the work of the students excellent, but said that dramatic training receives scant attention in the average high school. Miss Neilson believes that anyone who receives a thorough training in expression is the better prepared for life.

CLOVERLEAF BANQUET CLOSES CONFERENCE

Booster Club Gives Dinner for 150 Persons—Musical Entertainment and Address by Fred High Make up Enjoyable Program.

The seventh annual Cloverleaf Industrial Managers' Conference closed Saturday evening, with a banquet at the Odd Fellows Temple. About one hundred and fifty persons were present at the dinner, which was given under the auspices of the Cloverleaf Booster Club.

The decorations were in orange and green. Each guest found at his plate a snapper, with which the crowd could produce the maximum amount of noise. Lively songs and music by Warfield Brown's orchestra added enthusiasm to the occasion.

FRED HIGH.

The meeting was called to order by Miss Catherine Gustafson, president of the Booster club who introduced C. Y. Rowe as toastmaster. After a few brief remarks Mr. Rowe introduced the Elks' Male quartet for two numbers and an encore. The quartet sang "Mother in Ireland," "Tomorrow," and "The Goshdurned Ford Pluggin' Right Ahead."

The next number on the program was a musical monologue, "The Three Bees," by Ben O'Connor. Mr. O'Connor responded to several encores, and sang some sprightly songs to the accompaniment of a guitar.

Fred High, the speaker of the evening, was next introduced. His subject was "Making Service Pay," and he convinced his audience that it pays to carry out the Golden Rule in business, and to make every effort to help the other fellow. He informed his hearers that the Elks' quartet sang some selections which he had sent them from the Billboard publishing house. Mr. High said that the publishers made a practice of sending musical selections to the people who could really sing and play, and doing it free of charge, while they sold the pieces to the people who think they can sing and play.

The speaker said that we ought to see how the other half lives. He told of helping a man who was discouraged and intended to commit suicide. The man was down and out when Mr. High found him. He is now in a good position and prospering well. Mr. High emphasized the value of work as a result getter. He told of a boy who put on a pair of overalls and went into the street of his home village to dig up the weeds. It was not long before he had had a job with a farmer of the community, who had observed his industry.

The speaker's main thought was that helping the other fellow pays dividends. He stated that the Billboard, of which he is one of the editors, has built up a million dollar business on not one cent of original investment. If anyone in the dramatic or musical profession gets out of work, he may notify the Billboard and have an ad run free of charge. This sort of service is maintained on the theory that a class of busy satisfied readers is more profitable than a class of grouchy unemployed readers.

The speaker declared that if we are to keep people from drifting into bolshevism in the United States, we must give them something else to think about. The fact that 640,000 farmers drift from the farms each year, shows an element of unrest, and something must be done to settle matters. Mr. High's theory is that the application of the Golden Rule, the systematic helping of the other fellow, will solve the problem.

FARMER BATTLES WITH INSANE MAN

Harold Mason Attacked with an Axe by Escaped Patient from State Hospital—Overpowers Assailant and Notifies Authorities

Early yesterday morning Harold Mason, a farmer living west of Woodson, was attacked by a demented man whom he found pilfering his barn. The assailant was armed with an axe. Mr. Mason managed to elude the blows of the weapon and grappled with the man. Mrs. Mason, hearing the disturbance and fearing that her husband might be injured, notified Mr. Smith, a neighbor, who came immediately. The two farmers soon overcame the insane man and locked him in a corn crib. Later in the day the two men notified authorities in this city and found that their prisoner had escaped from the State hospital on Friday. The man was not thought to be dangerous and had been on detail for several years. Attendants were sent from the State hospital to bring the demented man to this city.

Mr. Mason's hands were cut and he had numerous bruises but no serious injuries. He said that he had not tried to hurt his assailant as he could see that the man was insane and not responsible for his actions. When Mr. Mason discovered the man he found that several implements had been removed from the barn and the live stock had been turned loose.

SEERS AUTHORITY TO SELL REAL ESTATE

A petition was filed by Thomas Allen in the circuit court yesterday for hearing at the May term. Mr. Allen, who is represented by W. T. Wilson, asking authority of the court to sell certain farm land located three miles west of Jacksonville or to make a new mortgage thereon.

It is set forth in the bill that the wife of the petitioner is of unsound mind and it is for this reason that a court order is sought to make possible a sale of the property if satisfactory price can be secured.

MANY CHILDREN OF STATE CHEATED OUT OF OPPORTUNITIES

Present Method of Distribution of the State Common School Fund is the Reason— Plan Proposed in Senate Bill Number 220 Will Remedy the Defect That Now Exists

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Many Illinois school children are cheated out of opportunities for a good elementary school education equal to that of other children by the present method of distributing the state common school fund, according to W. W. Lewton of Cicero, chairman of the Illinois Educational commission.

"At present," said Mr. Lewton, "each district in the state receives a portion of the fund in ratio to the number of persons under 21 years of age, supposed to be residing within the district. While this method has sometimes an approximate ratio to the number of children actually attending school, it more often is used to benefit the favored and thereby cheat others who have equal rights.

"The inequalities of this plan of distribution is common knowledge and the state will be negligent in longer failing to recognize the injustices done if it does not change to a more equitable method of distribution of state aid.

"The plan proposed in senate bill 220 now under consideration by the general assembly will make the fund a stimulation to the community, it will send the money where the teachers are teaching, and the children are attending school.

"The most important factor in the school is the teacher. The old adage still is true. 'As the teacher, so is the school.' This means better trained teachers—better the school and the longer the term—the more education will the pupil receive. By rewarding the district for the number of days in session on a teacher day basis, the natural result will be to make the school term longer.

"It makes no difference what the length of the term may be if the pupil is not attending regularly he will not be exposed to benefit. It is again but natural to use a part of the state aid to education, and therefore will not reward a regular attendance on the basis of the number of days pupils attend.

SEVERE SHORTAGE OF COMMON LABOR

Will Lack of Man Power this Spring According to Monthly Review of the Industrial Situation.

CHICAGO—(By A. P.)—A severe shortage of labor when the out of door employments assert their claim for man power is forecast on the tightness in the labor market so early in the spring, according to the monthly reviews of the industrial situation in Illinois, issued today by the general advisory board of the state department of labor.

Reports to the board indicate that the beginning of the labor shortage period is at hand, the expansion in the scale of industrial operations having slowly absorbed the unemployed men and women. In six of the fourteen principal cities of the state in which offices of the free employment service are located, the demand for workers in March exceeded the available number of registrants. The offices reported a shortage of 1,116 workers for the state as a whole.

"The railroads in March were only commencing to assemble their work gangs, the road builders had not gotten into action, and the cold weather of March postponed much of the demand for labor for construction and for the planting of corn," said the report. "An analysis of the signed reports from 1,526 employers of the state, including one-third of the manufacturers and representative employers in building, public utilities, and mining, shows an expansion in the number of workers in Illinois industries in March amounting to 2.1 per cent. The expansion in the scale of production during the month resulted in an addition of 7,841 workers to the payrolls.

"Reporting employers in manufacturing alone increased their forces by 7,133 employees during March, and from this it is estimated that in all Illinois factories took on 29,000 workers.

"Except for a decline of less than one per cent, in Joliet, employment as reported by employers was larger in each of the fourteen principal cities. The largest increase was in Quincy, where workers increased 15.5 per cent.

"Increase in Wages. The passage from a period of unemployment to one of labor shortage has been marked by increases in wage rates. Of the 115 firms reporting in the iron and steel classification, twenty-six increased wage rates during March. The increase in rates coupled with fuller employment caused an increase in the average weekly earnings of the workers. The earnings amounted to $27.35 in March, an increase of 1.2 per cent above the February figure. The average earnings of factory workers was $29.83, an advance of $1.00 per week over the average six months ago. These increases in money wages are of substantial benefit to the workers only if the cost of living in the meantime has not gone up by a like percentage.

Firms submitting reports are divided into sixty-four classes, of which forty-nine showed net employment increases and fifteen net employment declines, according to the report. Of the major groups of industries, declines were found only in printing and mining.

"Brick concerns, which did not show any sharp reduction in workers throughout the winter, started the spring with a gain of 16.2 per cent," the report continued. "The entire group of metal industries moved forward with a gain in workers of 3.6 per cent. Automotive concerns are experiencing a very active demand for their products.

"Paint concerns have taken on 12.1 per cent more employees, and a sharp increase in workers also was made by firms in the mineral and vegetable oil products class.

"The amount of money put in circulation as wages by the 125 concerns during the week of March 15 amounted to $9,573,671.40, which was an increase of 1.8 per cent over the February total.

Reports from 681 concerns for March, 1923, and March, 1922, showed the volume of employment for all firms increased by 14.3 per cent. Reporting manufacturers alone, who had not quite one-third of all manufacturing employees of the state, had 28,945 more workers in March, 1923, than in March, 1922. The expansion was largest in the chemicals, oils, and paints group. Public utilities in the year gained 9.4 per cent in workers.

IMMEDIATE OUTLOOK BEST IN YEARS SAYS BABSON

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., April 13.—Roger W. Babson is very optimistic on the immediate outlook. Since returning from his inspection trip, he has been going thru the mass of reports and figures which accumulated on his desk during his absence. These statistics are even more encouraging than he had anticipated.

"American business has certainly waked up!" according to the statistician. "The Babson chart showed nearly 4,000,000 men out of employment a year ago. Today it shows practically no unemployment. Where the blast furnaces were then being banked, new furnaces are now being started and premiums are being paid for prompt steel deliveries. The copper industry is showing activity for the first time of several years and many of the miners have been given a wage increase of 50 cents a day. Building is still booming and the 1923 figures will exceed any previous year, notwithstanding the big volume of 1922.

"The most remarkable change in sentiment I find right at home here in New England. A year ago the mills were cutting wages and great numbers of workers were out on strike. Today the mills are working overtime and the largest concerns are advancing wages. Of course, this is an unhealthy sign for the long pull because it is due only to the artificial barrier on immigration. On the other hand, increased wages are a great temporary stimulus to trade. The purchasing power of many cities is simply the total of these cities' payrolls. Increasing wage in New England's mills of 12 1/2 per cent, increases the purchasing power of the communities to almost a corresponding amount. This means that these manufacturing centers will—during 1923—be the best places to send salesmen, because most wage workers spend all they get. Moreover, such salesmen should be sent to these cities at once, because the present boom cannot be long lived. It is not based on a firm foundation. Many of these men now getting an increase in their wages will be out of work before 1924 is ended.

"While coming north last week from my winter home at Mountain Lake in the beautiful Ridge Lake Section of Florida, I saw cotton being planted in Georgia. It is evident that the South is very happy with the present price of cotton and that a large acreage will be planted in 1923. Corn planting has started in the Southwest and the seeding of oats is seen thruout the South and Southwest. Winter wheat, doubtless, was killed to some extent last month in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky, but these fields will soon be replanted—for even the farmer is feeling better than he has felt for some years in spite of the fact that he is not yet out of the woods. His great difficulty was that the price of what he had to sell went down so much more than the price of what he had to buy. What the farmer wants is higher produce prices or lower merchandise prices. Now to have merchandise prices go up and higher in 1923, as everything indicates will be the case, the farmers must get higher prices for their 1923 crops or else there surely will be another collapse in 1924. We cannot get good business by disregarding either the Multiplication Table or the Ten Commandments.

"The Ruhr invasion is also helping spring business over here in America. For the first time in history—except during the Great World War—we are shipping coke to France and Germany. Japan, which had ordered great amounts of steel from Ruhr mills, is now turning to the United States. Europe, which last year had turned again to production, is now busy playing politics and watching the exhibition of a War League stage in the Ruhr Valley. While Europe is indulging in this luxury, she must eat and live. Hence, France and Germany are again buying goods in America, as the export figures to be issued shortly by the Department of Commerce, will clearly show. How long this situation will last, no one can tell; but it is helping us here in the United States.

"Spring business is also being increased by the belief that Congress will not be in session again until December and then for only a short session. Whatever the motives of our politicians may be, the fact remains that they are a great drag on the prosperity of America. Under our present system of government the only reason we have any prosperity is because of our tremendous natural resources. Our forests, mines, fertile fields, and other great gifts of God enables us to afford to indulge in factional legislation and political log-rolling as a pastime. Hence, when we cease this selfish game for nine months, business almost always piles up. Certainly this is one of the chief causes for optimism today.

"I am very hopeful for immediate business," concluded Mr. Babson, "as the robins come back and the trees leaf out business will be good, and all of us prosper. I only add—let us be sure not to abuse this prosperity, or the Babson chart, which now stands at 4 per cent above normal will quickly drop back."

serious question. The society has always met at the University Club, where women are not admitted. The men were loath to give up their quarters at the University Club. However, after a careful consideration of the whole question, the men voted without a dissenting voice to invite the women graduates next year to the annual supper. Frank R. Elliott, '99, vice president of the Harris Trust and Savings bank of Chicago, was elected president of the society for next year. Edwin D. Jackson, '05, was, as usual, re-elected secretary. ## FRED HIGH TO SPEAK HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Popular Lecturer, Whom Many Jacksonville Citizens Are Eager to Hear, Will Address Forum Audience at Chamber of Commerce, Record Breaking Crowd Expected

Fred High, who came to this city to address the Cloverleaf agents last night, will speak Monday evening at the Chamber of Commerce membership forum, according to arrangements made yesterday afternoon. Mr. High is to spend Sunday with Dr. Sears in the Franklin neighborhood, and will return here Monday morning to confer with the executive board of the commercial division.

As he is not leaving town until Monday evening late, the forum board secured him to deliver an address at the meeting. This is something for which numbers of local business men have been waiting. Those who did not have the opportunity of hearing Mr. High at the Kiwanis banquet, have since been eager to hear him. The meeting Monday night promises to be a record breaker in attendance. It was by a fortunate chance that Mr. High was secured as a speaker, and the committee made the arrangements with the knowledge that numbers of citizens were eager to hear him.

Another speaker will be Frank T. Sheets, superintendent of the State Highway department, who is to give an address on the progress of hard road construction in Illinois, illustrated with stereoscopic slides. Chairman Cody of the entertainment committee is planning some good and novel stunts for the opening part of the forum program. Refreshments and cigars will be served at the close of the program.

ILLINOIS IS MOTHER OF 20,000 HOMELESS CHILDREN AT PRESENT

Is Now by Far the Distinction of the Greatest Foster in the Commonwealth—Most of Them Are in Private Institutions—Others Placed in Homes or Orphanages

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Illinois is now the mother of 20,000 homeless children. This numerous brood has given her the distinction of being by far the greatest foster parent in the commonwealth, and her ministrations to these homeless ones has touched with the warming quality of motherhood that cold, invisible creature called the state.

In thousands of private homes, in hundreds of orphanages and in one large institution maintained directly by the state, these hapless little wards look to the great foster parent to insure them proper shelter, clothes and good food, and in many instances their misfortune has turned out to be good luck.

In private institutions in Illinois there are 15,000 of these children, there are 4,000 more placed in private homes, and at the Soldiers' Orphans Home at Normal, Ill., there are almost 500 children maintained directly by the state.

Over all of these children the law gives the state, then the department of public welfare, close control, and makes it responsible for the supervision of their housing, feeding, education and clothes.

Every institution which cares for homeless children must obtain from the state a license before it can enter this field and to carry on the work it must maintain certain standards. State supervision is effected by field agents, who visit private homes and institutions at intervals to see that the state standards are maintained.

The 4,000 children in private homes have been gathered from many quarters. They come from homes too poor to keep children, from homes where the parents have died, from the streets and from hospitals. They find homes thru the courts, thru churches, and thru the home finding agencies of the state. The homes of these children go to range in the social scale from the laborer's cottage to the homes of the wealthy.

The private home must meet certain standards before they can receive one of these human gifts from the state. They must be financially able to assume the burden of an additional member in the family. They must be able to send the child to school until he or she is sixteen years old. They must clothe the child in conformity with the standards of the community in which the home is located. They must see that the child has proper medical treatment and plenty of time for recreation. If the child is capable of further education above the age of sixteen the state will see that he gets it.

These standards have been so strictly adhered to that in most cases of child placement, the child's apparent misfortune in losing its own home has in the end been its greatest fortune.

HARDY FARMERS LEAVE ENGLAND FOR DOMINIONS
LONDON.—More than 20,000 English emigrants left their native land during 1922 to make their home in various parts of the British Dominions. This exodus is a result of the government's overseas settlement policy. The number leaving each week this year is steadily increasing and it is estimated that the total for 1923 will be double that of 1922. Under the new Empire Settlement Act the government bears half of the cost of emigration, and in the case of ex-service men the entire cost is paid. A few of the British colonies pay a part of the emigrant's share of the costs on his arrival. The migration scheme will cost the British government approximately $5,000,000 by the end of 1924 for passage aid alone. Contrary to general opinion, only a small number of the emigrants are from the ranks of the unemployed. They are mostly hardy farmers and domestic servants from the English provinces. One party of 800 emigrants is to be transported directly from the Hebrides islands to Canada about the middle of April. Nearly three-fourths of this company are men all of whom will work on farms, while the women will go into domestic service.

Diamond Grove Memorial Mausoleum

The regard that men of different ages and nations have shown for their dead is a reasonable accurate reflection of their ideals, their civilization and their religion.

It seems as naturel for men to honor their dead and memorialize important events as it is for them to worship, in some manner a Supreme Power, or to hope for immortality. Burial customs, for the most part, are shaped and determined by the religious conception of people and their varying degrees of belief in "the resurrection of the body and the life everlasting."

In every monument and burial place of the past we read the pathetic desire upon the part of the living to protect and cherish the remains of the memory of those who have "gone before." Death is in itself so sad that it is little wonder man should ever have striven to soften its sting by his care and commemoration of the dead. It is an entirely natural and human wish to know and to mark the resting place of those whom we have loved and whose memory we wish to perpetuate, and it is here that the Mausoleum offers what little of comfort is possible to mourners.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

The Spring Revue was one of the most successful and well managed student entertainments that has been given at the college for several years. The decorations in the gymnasium were very attractive and every part of the entertainment presented exceptional skill and ability. The Household Science, Household Arts and Physical Education Departments were responsible for the success of the Revue.

Last Sunday, April 8th, twenty girls from the Springfield Young Woman's Christian Association Industrial Department were guests of the Woman's College association. They arrived Saturday evening and were entertained after dinner in the Social Room by the Dramatic club by two short plays. Sunday afternoon the guests and the local association held a joint meeting. They returned to Springfield Sunday evening.

Unusual honor has come to the Illinois Woman's college in the recognition of the exceptional work which is being done in the various departments. The University of Illinois each year awards one scholarship to Illinois Woman's College. Once in a while it is possible to get an additional scholarship because of the failure of some other institution to qualify. This year the Woman's College graduating class of 1923 have been awarded three scholarships, as follows: Elson Pires, the regular Illinois Woman's College scholarship in the University, her major being History; Eloise Calhoun, of Franklin, the second scholarship in English, and Maude Craigmiles of Pleasant Hill the third scholarship, her major being in Philosophy. This is the first time that the college has been awarded with the appointments of three students from any one graduating class on a few occasions two have been appointed. The scholarships are very attractive as the student is exempt from fees and receives an allowance of $500 for the school year.

The Dramatic club presented "In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy" and "Suppressed Desires" Friday evening at the K. P. Hall.

The Lambda Alpha Mu Society is interested in the presenting of "Bell Boy No. 13" which appears at Scott's theatre the first four days of the week. The society gets a commission of each ticket that is sold through its organization or its friends. All the money received is applied on the Endowment fund.

The Seniors will entertain the Juniors at the annual party Saturday evening in the College Gymnasium. The program will be furnished by Miss Hortense Nielsen, a well known impersonator and reader. Miss Nielsen reads exclusively for colleges and universities and her work is highly praised. She will read scenes from "As You Like It" and "Romeo and Juliet." Following Miss Nielsen's entertainment a dainty luncheon will be served. The gymnasium is beautifully decorated with lattice work and gay colors for the occasion.

Home Needs for Spring

Maytag "Gyrafoam"

This new electrically driven machine gets its name from the gyrating currents of water and soapy foam. It is not like any other type of washer. It is not a dolly machine. It is not a cabinet machine. It is not a vacuum or an oscillator machine. It is not like anything ever built. It is the only absolutely new principle of washing in the past ten years.

For country homes we recommend the Maytag Multi Motor, which comes equipped with a gasoline engine beneath machine.

The Boss and Jewel

We unhesitating recommend either of these stoves to one wanting an Oil Cooker. The "Jewel" comes out this season with a newly improved burner which makes the most intense flame ever devised. No country home should be without an Oil Cook Stove, and many city families find it cheaper and more satisfactory than gas. For a cool kitchen in summer time, use an Oil Cooker.

The Duplex Ice Box

The Durham Duplex is a most compact little ice box, just the thing for folks who do light house-keeping. It is made by the same company that makes the Duplex Fireless Cooker, and is similar to the Fireless Cooker in appearance.

Ovens for Oil Stoves

We have just received the biggest line of Ovens for Oil Stoves that we have ever carried. This will be a big Oil Stove season. We bought this big supply so we could make a small price on them.

'Laun-Dry-Ette'

This new electric washer is making many friends among the women of Jacksonville. It washes and wrings the clothes in a single operation—the clothes not being touched by hand from start to finish.

Eclipse Lawn Mower

Every man who owns an Eclipse Lawn Mower never loses a chance to boost it to his friends. The Eclipse is not only a good mower—it is the BEST mower ever made. It's the mower with the self-sharpening feature. We carry a complete line of this make, which includes several grades.

CANTILEVERS ARE ALL-DAY
SHOES

It's not hard to find a pair of shoes that are comfortable as you walk down town in the morning, fresh and untired; but it's quite a different matter to find a pair that will be equally easy on your feet after a long, tiring day.

Cantilevers are specially designed to give support that will prevent extreme foot-fatigue, and for this reason will be as comfortable at night as when you first put them on.

Comfort and foot well-being are the most important results of wearing Cantilevers, but they have the added advantage of looking smart for tailored wear at all times. The flexible Cantilever arch, that gives with every movement of your foot, will make you unconscious of wearing shoes at all, except for the comforting assurance of being well-shod.

of the children. The mothers and fathers who have taken these children in are glad to get them and are willing to give them the care they need without financial remuneration. There is at present a positive demand for babies, the department of welfare having on hand more requests than can at present be supplied.

The supervision of all these children is in the hands of the child welfare department, a division of the department of public welfare. Roy James Battis of Chicago heads this division. Dr. Charles Viden is state agent for this department. Miss Emma Zimmerman is assistant state agent. Judge C. H. Jenkins is director of the general department, having charge of all state charitable and penal institutions, known as the department of public welfare.

The soldiers' orphans' home at Normal is the only state institution for orphans. The home recently has been remodeled and enlarged and now houses children of soldiers of the world war as well as other wars.

In addition to the 20,000 children under supervision in homes and private institutions and the one state institution, there are 1,651 in fraternal orphanages over which the law gives the state authority.

No direct supervision has been maintained over these fraternal orphanages, however, as the uniformly high standard of the boards controlling them had made state supervision unnecessary. Mr. Battis said. The largest number in fraternal homes is at Moschardt, Ill., where there are 1,274 children, the Knights of Pythias home at Decatur where there are 60, in the La Crosse Masonic orphans' home, 148, and in the Odd Fellows' home at Lincoln, 172.

In the entire state there are now 104 private orphanages and homes certified by the state and under state supervision of the department of child welfare.

Last year there was contributed to these various institutions from private sources the sum of $3,387,428 and only $511 from public funds.

WHITE HALL PARK TO BE BEAUTIFIED

Ray Wilkinson Arrives from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to Assist in Park Beautification—O'Car White Hall News

White Hall, April 14.—Ray Wilkinson arrived from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Friday, and will be associated with his father, Allen H. Wilkinson, in the beautification of Whiteside park this summer and in other landscape contracts. His wife will arrive later. The young man is 29 years of age, and was associated in landscaping with his father at Cedar Rapids during the number of years that the latter was located there. The name carries authority in landscape affairs at Cedar Rapids and the northwest. Their return is bringing the Wilkinson operations back to White Hall, where the venerable Henley Wilkinson has been active as a nurseryman for fifty years. Wilkinson has developed quite a nursery business at Jerseyville in the past two years, but Allen and Ray are landscape specialists.

Ferd Nevius has developed pneumonia, and the seriousness of the disease has caused general concern especially in band circles, he being a baritone player of such ability that his absence during the illness seriously affects the conduct of rehearsals in preparations for the numerous important local engagements that are under way for the spring and summer season.

Roadhouse people constituted a large element of the audiences at Princess theatre Thursday afternoon and evening to witness "When Knighthood was in Flower."

The Domestic Science club met this week at the home of Mrs. Roy Dugger on Centennial street, with twenty-nine members and four guests present. Mrs. Frank Henderson and Mrs. Ora Mahler demonstrated in a very interesting manner the making of sandwiches and salad, three kinds of each. Angel food cake and coffee was served at the close of the demonstration. Roll call was responded to by giving thoughts on easy cleaning methods.

The Round Table met with Mrs. W. T. Knox on North Main street Friday afternoon. The principal paper was given by Mrs. Pozy Fry on "Political Unrest of India."

Robert Piper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Piper, entertained

twenty-four boys at his home on West Bridgeport street Friday evening. A delightful time was passed in numerous indoor games. Guests from Roodhouse and Lereton's Prairie were present. Refreshments were served consisting of brick ice cream, cookies and punch.

Russell Knox has been appointed bookkeeper of the Community elevator at Hillview. He succeeds Mrs. Fannie Teter.

The Past Noble Grand club of Adams Rebekah lodge met at Mrs. Sue McAvoy's home this week. Past Noble Grand Sue McAvoy was assisted by Mrs. George McClure. There were twenty members present. This club will entertain all the Past Noble Grand of Greene county in May.

Mrs. Lee Mellor is expected home from Our Saviour's hospital at Jacksonville next Sunday, her return being delayed by a fall in becoming accustomed to the use of crutches as the result of the amputation of a limb last December. The Mellors reside east of White Hall on the F. F. Clark farm, coming here a year ago last March. He and his father, Robert Mellor, jointly are conducting this farm of 385 acres. They formerly resided at Murfreesboro, and are highly regarded.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mellor were married three years ago last December, following his release from army service. He was commissioned lieutenant while with a depot brigade at Camp Jackson, and at the time of his discharge was with the 35th Field Artillery at Anderson, Ala. She was formerly Miss Lucy Story of Murfreesboro, one of the choice young maidens of the town noted for women with fine looks and character.

SEED CORN

THE COLUMBIANA FARMS AT ELDRED, ILLINOIS, Greene County, again have carefully selected and tested seed corn of strong germination for the Spring of 1923, which they produced in 1922, from DISEASE FREE SEED CORN, purchased from the FUNK BROTHERS SEED COMPANY at $10.00 per bushel. This corn is Yellow Dent, called Utility Type. The medium, smooth, well matured ears will give higher yields and better quality than the rough starch corn which is later in maturity, lighter in weight, with inferior root development, more barren stalks, and has less vitality to resist unfavorable weather.

The corn will be distributed to farmers in Morgan County, Illinois,

PRINTERS UNION HEADS ISSUE STATEMENTS

Officers of Typographical Union
Derry Open Shop Movement
and Lay Emphasis on Cordial Relations Existing Between Many Newspaper Publishers
and Employees

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 13.
—Gratitude for continuance of "that cordiality which for the most part has marked the relations of the International Typographical Union and American newspaper publishers," and hope that the present "open shop" agitation will not disturb existing good feeling, is expressed by John McFarland, president, and J. W.
Hays, secretary-treasurer of the International, in a membership communication inspired by the approach of the seventy-first anniversary of the founding of that organization.

"It is significant to recall that the first president of the New York Typographical Union, one
of the local organizations which played a part in founding the national association, was Horace Greeley, editor and publisher of the New York Tribune," says the communication. "Mr. Greeley, himself a skilled printer, belonged to the large body of publishers which has always believed that well treated and contented
employees were worth the price
of their independence from economic distress."

Little Bitterness Shown.
"Throughout the years of its existence the typographical union
has seen comparatively little bitterness even in its greatest struggles. While strikes and other forms of strife have not been absent, in a majority of newspaper
offices union members and managements have enjoyed cordial relationships most of the time.
No doubt this is due in part to better understanding on each side of problems confronting the other. Publishers from the nature of their calling develop broader knowledge of human problems and are less apt to be hated in a clashing of interests
than are men of narrower experiences. Something of the same attitude is to be found in printers whose work is also conducive of thoughtful habits of mind. The result is seen in the generally prosperous condition of newspapers and the relative contentment
of employees."

"Efforts to advance an open shop movement at this time are regrettable chiefly because they add to the turmoil and unrest of the public mind. Wise thought and sound policies along class welfare lines are scarcely to be expected to develop among a people beset by a vast variety of social problems. The American Plan represents radical Bourbonism in the same sense that the Workers Party represents radical communism. Both movements derive much of their motive power from the same agencies. It has but recently been revealed that the importance of the radical communistic movement in this country has been grossly exaggerated by slanders and propa-gandists bent on enriching themselves thru frightening employers and capitalists. The same types, and in some cases the same individuals, carry on the 'open shop' movement—professional propagandists, contribution sol-licitors and speakers."

Propagandists Busy
"The large employer of labor is often easy to victimize. His multitude of special business
cares preclude thoughtful consideration of propositions presented by promoters of movements. He has usually an annual appropriation to spend on 'policy.' The promoter enjoys that situation."

"From a strictly cynical viewpoint it can be seen that an employer has little to gain from the 'open shop' movement. In the first place workers are not likely to allow their highly beneficial trade unions to be wrested from them. But even supposing the movement, at great cost, should drive unionism to the wall. What then? Would the men who had known the advantages and independence of collective bargaining
and the philanthropic provisions of unionism docilely accept a state of juvenile dependence on employers, or worse, descend to serfdom as would be the case in some shops? It is more likely that they would turn to political radicalism, or, if driven further,
to sabotage and violence."

"Certainly the wiser policy at this time for all concerned is to seek national development and prosperity thru thoughtful and sympathetic study of economic problems, such as has characterized most of the relations between the printing trades unions and the larger group of newspaper publishers for many years."

OPEN MUNICIPAL GOLF COURSE MAY 1

Non-Arrival of Equipment Cause of Delay—Greens in Excellent Shape.

The Jacksonville Municipal Golf course will be officially opened May 1. Mr. Keywood has been working since April 1, to get the greens in condition and the course should be in excellent shape on the opening date.

The custom which prevails
throughout this country in clubs
which are so far south as Jacksonville and in a majority of those even further north is to open the course to play as soon as the weather will permit, using temporary greens. Play is not permitted on the regular greens
until the course is officially opened.

The above practice has been followed out in Jacksonville for several years but it is impossible
this year as the new cups, flags
and other equipment needed, for use have not been received.

It is with regret that local golfers will hear of this delay as April has been a very favorable month for golfing. The students of both the high school and college have practiced for their spring tournaments in the latter part of April and they will be handicapped by the late opening
this year.

BRESSLER WEDS MISS HELEN F. KOLP

CINCINNATI, Ohio, April 14.—
Raymond D. "Rube" Bressler,
general utility man of the Cincinnati Nationals and Miss Helen
F. Kolp, sister of William L.
"Larry" Kolp, of the Boston
Braves, were married here late today. The couple obtained the marriage license at probate court
and immediately went to the home of the Rev. Frederick N.
McMillin, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Walnut
Hills, who performed the marriage ceremony.

"Larry" Kolp formerly played shortstop on the Cincinnati team.

FOUR FRENCH CARS IN INDIANAPOLIS RACE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April
14.—Announcement that four French automobiles of the same make had been entered in the eleventh annual 500 mile race to be run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30, was made tonight by the speedway management. Earlier in the day it was said that the entries of three German cars had been received.

The French automobile team will be captained by Pierre De Viscaya, who built the machines,
it was said.

MOLINE GETS COAST CATCHER

of the Three I league by the

U. S. RUNNERS WEAK ON LONG DISTANCE

NEW YORK.—The United States will be very weak in the distance runs at the eighth Olympic at Paris in 1924, unless development of capable men is begun at once, according to Mike Ryan, veteran track coach and trainer of Colby College, Waterville, Maine, who was on the board of coaches of the American Olympic team in 1920 and a member of the American Olympic teams in 1908 and 1912.

"By distance runs," Mr. Ryan explained, "I mean the races of 5,000 and 10,000 meters and the cross country and marathon runs, which Americans always have been inferior to European track
men and in which practically no competition has been provided in this country in the last decade."

"Except in the marathon races
of 1908 and 1912, when the American entries registered a lower team score than any of the other nations, Americans never have been formidable in any of the distance races in Olympic competition. The prospects for American success in these events in the next Olympiad do not look promising,
because our distance runners are very inferior."

In the sixth Olympiad at Stockholm in 1912, when the United States was represented by the greatest aggregation of distance runners this country ever produced, Americans won only two places, Louis Twanima, a Hopi Indian from Carlisle School, took second place in the 10,000 meter race and Gaston Strobino was third in the marathon. Twanima's place was the first gained by an American in a distance race in the Olympic games since their revival in 1896.

"Before 1912 and shortly before the United States entered the world war, there was plenty of competition at three-mile, five-mile, ten-mile and marathon distances in this country. From the large field of runners our Olympic material was developed. In later years, however, there has been a great decline and a distance race of more than two miles is seldom held except in the annual sectional and national champion ships.

"This condition does not stimulate interest in distance running and it does not produce runners capable of representing the United States with much hope of success at the Olympic games in 1924. The foreigners have beaten us to it, not only in Olympic competition but in our own national distance championships, most of which in the last decade have been corralled by foreigners."

PETTERSON WON FROM ALBERT CUTLER

Peterson overcame a lead of 160 which Cutler gained in the first block of their meeting last night. Cutler had eight scoreless innings. His best run was 40
while Peterson's was 97.

The second match in the championship play will be held in St.
Louis on April 19 and 20 when

First Home Game of Yanks In New Stadium

NEW YORK.—When baseball, attracting its swarms of fans to
its polo fields here this season,
New York's devotees of the sport
will find their way into the two largest and finest parks in the country.

The new $3,000,000 Yankee stadium is now practically complete, and vast improvements
have been under way at the Polo Grounds, home of the world's champion Giants, where the seating capacity is being increased to 52,000. The combined seating capacity of the two parks at the opening of this season will be 120,000—75,000 at the Yankee stadium and 45,000 at the Polo Grounds—but within a few weeks
this will be increased to 130,000.
In future years, when final plans
are completed, 154,000 spectators can be accommodated on a single day.

The Yankee stadium, the large-
est baseball park in the country,
will be ready for the opening game next Wednesday, with the Boston Red Sox, who will accommodate 75,000 persons. When completed it will seat 100,000.

The severity of the winter has retarded work at the Polo Grounds
but 45,000 seats will be available
there April 26, at the first call of "Batteries for today," and before the end of May 54,000 will be ready.

The Yankee park is an imposing arena with its tier of wooden bleachers surrounding most of the outfield and huge steel and concrete grandstand, consisting of two decks and a mezzanine floor.
The bleachers, newly painted in bright green, are ready for the first mob of "dyed-in-the-wool"
enthusiasts.

The grandstand is complete except for two decks of seats in the extreme left field section, which will be added after the close of the 1923 season. There are rows of box seats in front of all seats

VAN LIEW GOES TO KNOX COLLEGE

GALESBURG, Ill.—(Special).—
Athletic authorities at Knox College announced today the appointment of John Van Liew as Director of Athletics for the coming year. Van Liew comes to Knox from Champaign high school where he has been athletic director for the past three and one-half years. A brilliant record is what Van Liew has left behind him at Champaign. Before going to Champaign Van Liew was athletic director at East Des Moines
high school, Des Moines, Iowa.
While there in the eight years of his residence he developed many strong football and track teams.
Twice his teams won state honors
and usually were the winners in the city title fray. During the war he left Des Moines and went to Camp Dodge where he was director of athletics for the soldiers stationed at the camp. In February, 1919 he went to Champaign and has produced many winning teams. His football teams have won nineteen games,
lost two and tied one. His basketball record shows 45 games won, 10 lost. His track teams have also won state championships and eight meets have been won with two seconds. This out of a total of eight entered.

Van Liew received his early training in East Des Moines high school and in Grinnell College, in Iowa. He left the record of being one of the best quarterback back
the school ever turned out.

end of the season, would reconsider their action and that the fine would not be enforced.

night that the first practice game
of the Indees would be held at the park next Sunday, April 23.
It had been expected to have the

the game next Sunday but it was impossible to book the team. This former White Sox star is playing.

Work will be rushed on the grounds and stands this week and it is hoped to have everything in readiness for the first game of the season, April 29.

WILL URGE HARD ROAD FOR SOUTH OF CITY

At Big Chamber of Commerce meeting to be held next Monday night the need for a state hard road out South Main street will probably be urged on Frank T. Sheets, state superintendent of highways, who will be present and will speak.

The need for a good road from the city limits of Jacksonville to Woodson has been felt for some time and now is the best time possible to bring the matter to the attention of state officials. Mr. Sheets spoke in this city sometime ago and is thought to be favorable toward the project. One hundred per cent attendance is being asked by the Chamber of Commerce officers as the larger the audience that confronts Mr. Sheets the more he will realize the desire for hard roads in the community.

Refreshments will be served at the meeting and a good program has been arranged.

VETERANS FOREIGN WAR NEWS NOTES

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in more than a thousand posts throughout the United States, Philippines, Hawaii, Canal Zone and France will sell poppies on Memorial Day to serve a twofold purpose, a visible sign of homage to our service dead and a means of financially assisting disabled former service men. The Poppy Campaign, which this year will be conducted by Captain Robert B. Handy, Jr., Inspector-General of the veterans' organization, is an annual feature of V. F. W. activity. Last year much worthy relief work was done with the money received from the sale of the scarlet flowers.

Honolulu, H. T.—That the work of caring for the service men's burial plot here which has been carried on for many years by members of the Grand Army of the Republic will not die with them, Frederick Funston Post No. 94 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars have agreed to care for the mortuary ground so long as the Post is in existence. The G. A. R. post here is dwindling rapidly and within a few years, at the most, the last Union soldier will be laid to rest beside his comrades.

Fremont, Nebr.—Veterans of Foreign Wars throughout Nebraska are pooling their efforts to support the recently reported Bonus bill which calls for compensation of fifty cents per day for every Nebraska man and woman who served in the United States army, navy and marine corps between April 6th 1917 and November 11th, 1918. The total in any case is not to exceed $350.

Kansas City, Kan.—Matters of vital importance to American veterans will be discussed here Saturday and Sunday, April 28th and 29th, when the Council of Administration and Department Commanders of the Veterans of Foreign Wars meet in the Muehlenbach Hotel. Col. T. L. Huston, Commander-in-Chief of the V. F. W., and half owner of the New York Yankees, will preside. More than 25 states will be represented at the conference.

Boston, Mass.—Mayor James M. Curley is planning a city welcome for the delegates of the Massachusetts Department of the Veterans of Foreign Wars when they gather in their state encampment here in a few weeks. Mayor Curley is an enthusiastic supporter of the veteran cause and has named John L. MacDonald, a former V. F. W. Department Commander, as his commissioner of Americanization.

Bridgport, Conn.—Under the personal direction of State Commander John H. Williams, City Treasurer, the Department of Connecticut Veterans of Foreign Wars, are endeavoring to get favorable action on a state bonus bill now before the legislature. Although Connecticut has appropriated a relief fund of $2,500,000 the veterans claim this in no way satisfies the just claims of many of the veterans.

Washington, D. C.—The Veterans of Foreign Wars have undertaken in connection with the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, an extensive insurance reinstatement

Lasting Satisfaction in the Hupmobile

Satisfaction is perhaps the one word which best describes the feeling of every Hupmobile owner.

Satisfaction—with the faithful way it performs the tasks he sets for it to do; with the fact that it requires next to nothing in the way of expert care and adjustment; with low costs that stay low all the year 'round.

Satisfaction, in short, because the Hupmobile always does the things he wants it to do in the way he wants it to do them.

LILY-OF-THE-VALLEY

Shade-loving children of the court of flowers,
Pallid, chaste, and frail as mortal tears—
That you should time existence with brief hours
Instead of years, instead of blissful years!

So near the earthy mould, and yet so pure
As Heaven you live, adoring with your might
What patron saint of fruitfulness obscure
With balmy worship, morning, noon and night?

What utter harmonies of fragrance clear
Peal from the tiny silent carillons,
And music only to a fairy's ear,
And consonant with elfin clarions.

Would I were sprung from earth to spread
The music of sweet words for its own sake,
Without the effort, uniformly shed
As is your essence from the hour you wake.

Then would I set Romance adrift and free
Upon the world of misery and greed—
The Christ-romance in its simplicity,
Untainted by one whiff of code or creed.

Nor would I ask for worldly common gains,
But staidly serve the days of my heart's lease,
If might my swords go singing thru the lanes,
To draw men's thoughts aside to love and peace.

—JOHN KEARNS.

drive. Circulars have been sent out from the V. F. W. headquarters advising the ex-service men of the recent World War of the privileges and opportunities and benefits which they are lacking if they do not reinstate their Government insurance at the earliest date. The National Service Bureau in Washington is being besieged daily. Many of the men who have become permanently and totally disabled, discover only too late that they are unable to derive the benefits, which would be theirs, had they kept the insurance in force. There are dozens and dozens of these cases now in the Washington office, for which no adjustment can be obtained.

THIS IS FINAL DAY OF ART EXHIBIT

The exhibit of oil paintings at the David Strawn Art Home has proven very attractive. The attendance of old and young, especially of the students from our schools and colleges, has been most pleasing to those who are trying to make the Art Home a place of interest to all citizens, a magnet to draw the thoughts from the daily routine of petty duties so necessary to home life yet often painfully and needlessly absorbing.

Psychologists are striving to divert the attention of our American people from the dollar craze to the ethical and esthetic, the one thing needful to round out and perfect the American character.

Mr. Patrick, an authority on psychology, in his writings urges the study of art and literature, the two things most desirable now to be added to the energy, vim and thrift of our people.

This last collection now on exhibit is entirely the work of the women artists of our area. The oil paintings, miniatures and bronzes all speak a refining language to those who wish to understand, and many a dull and lonely day will be made the happier by the memory of these beautiful things.

The exhibit closes tonight at 6 o'clock.

TO SEEK PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE FUNDS

Campaign for $3,000,000 Will Be Pushed During the Year for Five Institutions in Illinois

The Chicago Tribune recently contained the following interesting item regarding the movement which is to be undertaken for the benefit of Presbyterian educational institutions in Illinois:

"A campaign for $3,000,000 for the Presbyterian colleges of Illinois will be launched soon, it was decided yesterday at a meeting at the Union League club of college presidents and representatives of the Presbyterian general board of education and the committees on education of the synod of Illinois. The Rev. A. S. C. Clarke, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Evanston, is chairman of the committee taking action. Blackburn, Lincoln, Illinois, Millikin and Lake Forest are among the colleges to be benefited and also Presbyterian work at the University of Illinois."

President Rammelkamp, who attended the above mentioned conference at the Union League club, when interviewed, stated that the details of the plan have not yet been determined, but that an effort will be made to present the interests of the various institutions in every Presbyterian church in the state of Illinois. Exactly what the share of each college in the fund may be has also not yet been determined.

The preliminary work of the campaign will probably begin this spring about the time of the meeting of the Presbyterian Synod at Mcmouthe, and it is hoped that the effort will be completed within about a year.

MANY ATTRACTED TO HANDWORK SCHOOL

Women and Children of City Were Apt Pupils in Basketry, Waxwork, and Making of Fancy Articles at Lane Store

Large numbers of women and children of this city have been attending the school of instruction in basketry work and making of crepe paper articles, which was held during the latter part of the week at Lane's book store. Miss Olive Matteson of the Denison Manufacturing Co., Framingham, Mass., was the instructor, and she works with material made by the company.

Tables were arranged in the front of the store and they were lined constantly with interested women and children, who were eager to learn to make the many pretty things on display in the windows and showcases of the store.

Many of the pupils made remarkable progress and showed real talent for the work. They made fancy baskets out of cord, woven on wire frames; constructed paper flowers, and molded wax into attractive designs. In the rear of the store was a table for children. Some of those who worked at this table showed real artistic ability. There was no limit on the time one could spend in learning to make the things. Some stayed only a few hours, and others spent two or three days in the store.

"LISTEN TO ME" AN INSTANTANEOUS HIT

It is doubtful if ever an attraction caught the public's fancy as quickly as "Listen to Me," LeComte and Flesher's gorgeous musical extravaganza, which toured the United States last season to an overwhelming success and is coming to the Grand Theatre tomorrow night.

"Listen to Me," written by the able playwright, Charles George, who turned out the entire book, lyrics and music, is a musical extravaganza in every sense of the word; it is all lights, music, dancing, novelties and pretty girls, with the most gorgeously mounted production in years, offering the most bewildering scenic effects during its two and a half hours of entertainment one can imagine.

A cast of par-excellence includes a dozen Broadway favorites with Barbara Bronell, America's newest born dancer—Miss Bronell first stepped into the limelight in the Golden Duet and like a meteor from a clear sky she has conquered and won a high regard in the hearts of the great theatregoing public as America's coming star. The costuming leads all in cleverly designed frocks and smart gowns, for few shows leave Broadway that are fashioned to the public's taste as this new offering. A bewitching chorus of shapely girls win their way long to be remembered for their wonderful skill as they execute the daring and difficult dance numbers fetchingly. A tuneful musical score possesses a dozen real hits, while the waltz theme, "Where is the Girl for Me," carries off the honors as the audience file from the playhouse.

TO TALENTS.

We have all our talents given By the Lord of earth and Heaven.

Some are best on the great high seas.

Plying their ways between countries.

Others must stay upon the land Building buildings of mortar and sand

His ship of goods across the tides.

Some have talents that make them great

In the eyes of the sophisticated.

Others have talents that seem so small

That they are spurned by one and all.

But whether our talents are great or small,

'T would be shameful indeed to allow them to fall

Into a neglected state of disuse.

We should use them so that we'd

His glory diffuse.

SPECIAL-SIX TOURING $1275

Wherever motor cars are discussed, and that's nearly everywhere, somebody is sure to remark—"That Studebaker Special-Six is a regular automobile."

The Studebaker Special-Six has been on the market for four years. Each year has seen added to it such refinements and improvements as time has made possible. Today there are more than one hundred and twenty-five thousand in every-day service and we don't believe there's a dissatisfied owner.

The name was selected because comparative tests against all kinds of cars made this car stand out as something special and apart from the ordinary run of automobiles. It requires special merit to warrant calling any car a special—and if the value isn't special the car quickly fades away.

Count the "Special-Sixes" that have appeared since the arrival of the Studebaker Special-Six. That's the proof of the value of the original Special-Six.

S. W. NICHOLS WRITES MORE ABOUT ARIZONA

No. 119 East First St., Tucson, Arizona, April 10.

I wonder if the Prophet Isaiah (or possibly some other prophet, the higher critics say) had in mind this part of Arizona when he wrote the beautiful words:

"The wilderness and solitary place shall be for them, and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose. It shall blossom abundantly and rejoice even with joy and singing; the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, they shall be glory of the Lord and the excellency of our God."

Certainly the foregoing words would be applicable in a considerable degree to a part of this state entered less than twenty years ago by an adventurous spirit who thought he saw in a large stretch of desert great possibilities. He had to transport water for his mules and they nearly died crossing the sandy waste but he persevered and his story reads like a romance.

He settled and began making preparations for irrigation and succeeded to a small extent and others followed him but gave up the battle and left. While he took no advantage of them, he bought their holdings cheap and went to work developing his acres and raising vegetables to be sent to the nearest market.

The contest took a good while and would have appalled hearers not as stout as his but he kept on and gradually saw his plane mature and succeed and today he owns and carries on twelve thousand acres. It takes him a day with his ear to go about his possessions, confer with his tenants and foremen and a good share of the night is used in attending to his correspondents, of whom there are many.

His shipments are by the car load and his goods have a ready market where first class produce are valued at their worth.

A notable figure in the early days of this locality was Father Abram J. Ryan. He loved antiquities and revelled in the ancient ruins to be found in the state. Being of a poetic turn of mind, he wrote the following:

The Land of Legend and Lays
"Yes, give me the land where the ruins are spread
And the living tread light on the hearts of the dead;
Yes, give me the land that is blest by the dust
And bright with the deeds of the downtrodden just;
Yes, give me the land where the battle's red blast
Has flashed to the future the deeds of the past;
Yes, give me the land that hath legend and lays,
That tell of the memories of long vanished days,
Yes, give me the land of story and song
Enshrine the strife of the right with the wrong;
Yes, give me the land with a grave in each spot
And names in the graves that shall not be forgot;
Yes, give me the land of the wreck and the tomb;
There is grandeur in graves—there is glory in gloom;
For out of the gloom future brightness is born,
As after the night comes the sunshine at morn;
And the graves of the dead with the grass overgrown
May yet form the footstool of Liberty's throne.
And each single wreck in the war-path of night
Shall yet be a rock in the temple of right."

The lover of antiquities may find much to interest him if he has time, means and facilities for exploration. It seems a kind of evening up for the vast stretches of sand and sage brush which can never be utilized with profit which abound so largely through the state. But to one like Father Abram J. Ryan it has unbounded attractions. He says: "A land without ruins is a land without memories—a land without history. A land that wears a laurel crown may be a land fair to see; but twine a few cypress leaves about the brow of my land, and be that land barren, beautiful and bleak, it becomes lovely in its consecrated coronet of sorrow, and it wins the sympathy of the heart and of history. Crowns of roses fade—crowns of thorns endure. Calvaries and crucifixions take deepest hold on humanity—the triumphs of night are transient. They pass and are forgotten—the sufferings of right are graven deepest upon the chronicles of nations."

Among the interesting ruins are those of the town of Tubac. Its name means adobe house. I bar, dining room and pool room. It also had a flour mill and was really a place of some importance but decay marked it for its own and it is one of the sepulchres of departed activity.

Another place on the southern boundary, or near it, is Calabasas, meaning squashes. It was hoped by its founders that it would be a railroad terminus and in anticipation of that event a hotel was built and a lot of money spent in booming the place. The promoters went so far as to send out literature showing steamers floating down the Santa Cruz river where hardly a canoe can find enough water for navigation. The Mexican government put a quietus on Calabasas with a decree that all trains south start at the boundary line, so the Mexican and Arizona Road, built south from Benson, on the main line of the Southern Pacific ended its journeyings at Isaacville which complied with the law.

The people of Isaacville didn't much fancy the name as it was for a noted saloon keeper, so they changed it to Nogles which means (walnuts). It is now quite a place.

Among the places showing departed greatness, but not ruins, is Tombstone, and woe to the man that talks about decay in that town. It has gone from 16,000 to about 1500 but it yet has some wideawake people in it and some indications of prosperity in the improved mining prospects.

I remember once traveling in the northeast part of our county and coming to a little store at a cross roads and meeting an elderly man named Jacob Bergen. He told me he began his business career in New York City. One day the store found itself in a hard way so they took a lot of goods, threw them into a cistern and announced a sale of shipwrecked merchandise and the bait took well. He indured for his employer and lost about all he had, so decided to go west. He landed some fifteen miles north of Jacksonville and started a small store and a village called Princeton. The old gentleman died worth a hundred thousand, I am told, but store, village and all have vanished and only farms are to be seen there. I think Appaloosa and some other places in our vicinity have gone the way of all the earth while Bethel and Old Berlin, left at one side by the railroad, are but shadows of their former selves.

Exeter once had a boom and a farmer disposed of a good farm, and built a pretentious hotel there only to sink his money. Lynnville seems to have stood the absence of a railroad better than most places owing possibly to the fine character of the people in its vicinity. Nortonville and Centerville, Ceres and other places are shadows of the past though with considerable vitality.

I had a pleasant call Sunday from young Mr. Doyle, formerly of Jacksonville. He came out here to visit his sister, Mrs. Martin Moore and being a fine mechanic soon found a good job in Southern Pacific shops as locomotive in-

ORIGIN OF THE WORD "USHER"

Usher. Doesn't the word suggest to you a slight young man leading theatre patrons down the aisle with a little flashlight in his hand. And yet it was not always so.

The word "Usher" was originally "Husher" and became corrupted by the London Cockney, with his habit of dropping H's where they should be and adding them where they don't belong. The "Husher" was a large and formidable man who carried a big stick with a lump of iron on the end.

In Shakespeare's time the English theatres were built in the form of a horseshoe and like those of today had balconys running all the way round the sides. In the center, was a big open space, unroofed and with only rough benches to sit on. This was called the "pit." The balconies contained the expensive "reserved seats" while the pit was open to all. Ale was served in the pit and all might drink to their hearts content until they became noisy.

Here the "Husher" stepped in to hush the crowd. The "hushing" was usually done by a smart rap on the head of the offender from the stick of the "Husher." The method was found to be quite satisfactory. Latter the drinks were exiled to a separate part of the theater and the husher was maintained to perform only the duties of the "Usher" of today.

NO SUNDAY BASE BALL IN GREENE COUNTY

White Hall, April 14—The action of the base ball authorities of Roodhouse in issuing instructions that govern the conduct of the American Legion base ball park there for the present season. These rules provide for prosecution for tres-passing in case of violation, and they provide for base ball games every day in the week, but not on Sunday. This means the elimination of Sunday base ball all over Greene county.

Gilbert K. Hutchens, superintendent of the Roodhouse schools has been admitted to the bar for the practice of law, and he will locate somewhere in Greene county perhaps at the close of the present school term. Mr. Hutchens made the race for the democratic nomination for county judge last year, and made a high score in the race against Mark Meyers-tein.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Revival of speculative interest in the rail shares was the outstanding feature in today's session in the stock market. Short covering furnished the impetus for most of the advance but speculative pools also were active in a few specialties. Buying of the rails in the financial district that a number of the principal railroad systems had earned two to four and one half times their fixed charges in the last three months. Gains of 1 to 3 points were registered by Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Atlantic Coast Line, Atchafalaya, Canadian Pacific, St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville, Lehigh Valley, Norfolk & Western, Pittsburgh & West Virginia, Texas & Pacific, Washash preferred A, and Western Maryland second preferred. In the industrial list the demand was most effective in the oil, can and some of the independent steel shares, some of the strong spots being the Pan-American, Pacific Oil, Houston-California Petroleum, preferred and American Can, Continental Can, Crucible and Shearwater Steel all up 1 to nearly 2 points.

Maryland Oil closed a point lower at 5 1/4 after having dropped to 5 1/8. Marine preferred dropped to 35 1/2, a new low record for the year and then rallied to 37 1/2, where it was up 1 1/2 for the day.

The weekly clearing house statement showed decreases of $26,384,000 in loans discounts and investments; $1,347,000 in cash in own vaults and $6,021,000 in net demand deposits. Time deposits increased $1,950,000 and reserve of member banks in the federal reserve bank was increased by $10,066,000. THE EDGAR ALLAN POE SHRINE
(By J. H. Whitty)

It is not recorded in any biography of Edgar Allan Poe that five of the female characters who figured prominently in his life-story are buried in Shockoe cemetery at Richmond, Virginia—a cemetery which, according to its own statement, Poe visited to keep vigils with the spirits of departed loved ones. This interesting fact came out only recently when preparations were being made to unveil a bronze tablet upon the grave of Mrs. Stanard in Shockoe Cemetery. She was Poe's youthful and idolized wife, who inspired the lines:

"To the glory that was Greece,
And the grandeur that was Rome."

This tablet is the gift of Dr. J. W. Robertson, of San Francisco, California, and to the Edgar Allan Poe Shrine, of Richmond, Virginia, has been entrusted the placing of the memorial over the tomb of Mrs. Stanard.

The other four friends of Poe, whose graves are not far distant from Mrs. Stanard's in the cemetery, are the first Mrs. Allan, Poe's fond foster-mother and the supposed "Sleeper" of his poems; Mrs. Shelton, nee Sarah Elmira Royster, Poe's first and last sweetheart, and the Lenore of his poem by that name; Eliza White, to whose inspiration Poe biographers credit his poem, "To Eliza"; and last, but not least, Poe's Aunt Nancy, Miss Ann Valentine. To her, it has also been written, he inscribed an early poem in the Baltimore Saturday Visitor.

Still another important unrecorded fact in Poe's story is the recent identification of the "Enchanted Garden" of his poem inscribed to Mrs. Whitman. The garden was at Richmond, Virginia, and located opposite to where Poe lived with the Allan and Ellis families upon his return from England in 1820. The "Enchanted Garden" has now been symbolized by the Edgar Allan Poe Shrine, at Richmond, Virginia, and during the week of April 23-28, which is to be observed as National Garden Week, this garden will bloom and will be incomparable to "Solomon in all his glory." During this same week the annual celebration of the Poe Shrine will take place, and prominent educators and speakers of the country are expected to attend and to make addresses.

Devotees of Poe will be interested to know that the Richmond Poe Shrine has definitely assumed the proportions of a permanent and valuable Memorial, not to Poe alone, but to American Literature. There is now under the accumulation of the finest Poe library in the world, which can be found all additions of his works, and copies of magazines and excerpts dealing with the biography or critically with his writings. The Museum there contains many valuable relics associated with Poe. There is also established a picture gallery containing likenesses of his friends and contemporaries, and illustrations from his works. Several well-known collections of roemans will be transferred to the Poe Shrine when the time comes, and now that a suitable depository has been arranged, other collectors of Americana intimate that provisions will be made in their wills for the disposal of their collections to the Poe Shrine, instead of to the auction rooms.

The Richmond Poe Shrine has already asserted itself a Bureau of information in regard to Poe and American Literature, and ultimately it was regarded as a literary University—a place where visitors from all over the world are welcomed and guided in their search for knowledge of the famous author and genius, who among other educational interests had so much to do in the laying of the corner-stone of the present-day Short Story.
